THE FIELD ARTILLERY JOURNAL

5-4 R
371
19

VOLUME IV
1914

CAPTAIN LOUIS T. BOISEAU
CAPTAIN MARLBOROUGH CHURCHILL
FIELD ARTILLERY UNITED STATES ARMY
Editors

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY by
THE UNITED STATES FIELD ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION
601 STAR BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C.
$3.00 PER ANNUM

UF1
F6

The United States Field Artillery Association

ORGANIZED JUNE 7, 1910

OFFICERS

PRESIDENT: Brigadier-General M. M. Macomb, U. S. Army.

VICE-PRESIDENT: Colonel Charles G. Treat (Field Artillery), General Staff, U. S. Army.

SECRETARY-EDITOR AND TREASURER: Captain Marlborough Churchill, Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Brigadier-General M. M. Macomb, U. S. Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel Peyton C. March (Field Artillery), Adjutant General, U. S. Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel Charles T. Menoher, 3rd Field Artillery.

Major Roy C. Vandercook, Field Artillery, National Guard, State of Michigan.

Major John H. Sherbourne, Field Artillery, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia.

The Field Artillery Journal

CONTENTS

No. 1

Brigadier-General Montgomery M. Macomb ..... Frontispiece.
Record of an Old Artillery Organization.—Major Allison Owen, Washington Artillery 5
The Field Artillery Camp of Instruction at Tobyhanna.—Major Charles P. Summerall, 3rd Field Artillery 19
The French Field Gun and other Notes on Field Artillery 36
The Psychology of the Battlefield.—Lieutenant Robert M. Danford, 5th Field Artillery 60
Along What General Lines Should Our Ammunition Service Be Organized?—Lieutenant Claude B. Thummel, 5th Field Artillery 76
Notes on the Employment of Artillery in the Balkan Campaign.—Translated from the French 83
Tactical Studies.—By Captain E. Dosse, Translated from the French 94
Examination Questions for Noncommissioned Officers, School of Fire for Field Artillery 129
Experiments in Feeding Horses 132
Book Reviews 137
Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 139
Field Artillery Directory 141

No. 2

The Probable Position of the Target Within a Bracket and Its Bearing Upon the "Drop-Back."—Lieutenant-Colonel Ernest Hinds, 5th Field Artillery 149
A Carrying Device for the Field Artillery Telephone.—Captain Guido F. Verbach, 1st Field Artillery, N. G. N. Y 194
Notes on the Employment of Field Artillery 197
Water Bags in the Field.—Lieutenant William Sharp, 2nd Field Artillery 206
Tactical Studies.—By Captain E. Dosse, Translated from the French 209
Evolution of Ideas in the Method of Preparing Artillery for Battle.—By Colonel Aubrat, Translated from the French 242
Present Tendencies in Germany Regarding the Use of Heavy Artillery.—By Captain J. Pesseaud, Translated from the French 304
The Field Artillery in the Balkans.—By Captain Alvin, Translated from the French 312
Military History 327
Book Reviews 329
Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 330
Field Artillery Directory 331

No. 3

Contemporaneous Notes on the Mobilization of a French Garrison Containing Artillery 337
Mobility of Field Artillery. Translated from "L'Artillerie Dans la Bataille" by Lieutenant Colonel Paloque 345
The Work of the Range Officer, by 1st Lieutenant Roger S. Parrot, 3rd Field Artillery 351
Tactical Connection between Infantry and Artillery during the Battle of Liao-Yang, by Major Generaz. Translated from the French by 1st Lieutenant Artistides Moreno, 28th Infantry 366
Proposed Methods of Carrying the Goertz Range Finder 390
Artillery Notes from Recent Wars in the Balkans, by Lieutenant Colonel Nikoloff of the Bulgarian Army 391
Heavy Siege Artillery in the European War 397
Contemporaneous Notes on the Procurement of Hay and Oats incident to French Mobilization 405
Sub-Calibre Practice of Battery "B," Third Field Artillery—1914, by 1st Lieutenant John S. Hammond 407
French Artillery. A Practical Test of the 65 mm. Mountain Gun, by George Nestler Trioche, Late Lieutenant, French Foot Artillery 413
First Impressions of the New Field Artillery Matériel, Model, 1911.—Translated from the Italian, by Major Herbert Deakyne, Corps of Engineers 415
Horses for the Field Artillery of the Organized Militia 422
Sub-Calibre Practice with Visible Bursts, by Lieutenant Francis T. Colby, 2d Field Artillery, National Guard of New York 427
Evolution of Ideas in the Method of Preparing Artillery for Battle, by Colonel Aubrat. Translated from the French, by 1st Lieutenant N. Pendleton Rogers, Coast Artillery Corps 430
Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 462
Field Artillery Directory 464
Book Reviews 468

No. 4

The New German Firing Regulations, 1914, by 1st Lieutenant Edmund L. Gruber, 5th Field Artillery 475
How the Commanding Officer of a French Light Field Artillery Battalion Employs His Battalion on the Battlefield, from Contemporaneous Notes 501
Smoke Bomb Practice, by 1st Lieutenant Roger S. Parrott, 3d Field Artillery 519
Automobile Artillery. The Chatillon-Panhard Traction-Motor of Total Adhesion, by Commandant L. Ferrus, Translated from the Revue d'Artillerie, July, 1913, by Major Henry Swift, U. S. Army, retired..... 526
The Militia Pay Bill, by Major John McA. Palmer, 24th Infantry, reprinted from the Infantry Journal, November-December, 1914 545
Aviation as an Aid to Artillery, by Captain Charet, Translated from the Revue d'Artillerie, March, 1912, by 2d Lieutenant James A. Merritt, 14th Infantry 562
French Artillery. The Recent Movement in Favor of the Pom-pom, by George Nestler Tricoche, late Lieutenant, French Foot Artillery 577
Dummy Drill Battery for Militia Field Artillery 584
Lighting System for Militia Batteries 587
Conversion Table, Milliémes to Degrees, Minutes and Seconds, by Louis J. Schroeder, Ordnance Officer, War Department 588
Concerning the Fall of the Belgian Forts, by Lieutenant General H. Rohne 589
Current Field Artillery Notes, including Notes reprinted from School of Fire Notes for October, 1914. 591
Editorial Department 601
Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 621
Field Artillery Directory 625
Annual Meeting 635
Book Reviews 637
Table of Contents for the Year 1914. Volume IV 641